A Bonding Company's Suggestion to Official Proposal Advertisers

"A large part of our contract bond business is submitted to us by wire, and I am a constant reader of the Official Proposals in order to find out the size and nature of the work that is referred to in the bond application. Very frequently I am unable to get any clear idea of what the advertisers are asking bids on, and of course the prospective bidder or contractor is also at a loss to know what kind of a job is being advertised.

"Traveling expenses are heavy at the present time, and contractors pay out considerable sums during the course of a year in investigating prospective contracts. This of course is a large charge that the owners eventually pay, and anything that will reduce the general overhead of contract work will eventually be to the advantage of the owner.

"One way to reduce this overhead is to word the advertisement so that the contractor sitting in his office will know whether or not he should investigate and prepare a bid on the proposed work."

A Bonding Company's Suggestion to Official Proposal Advertisers

"A large part of our contract bond business is submitted to us by wire, and I am a constant reader of the Official Proposals in order to find out the size and nature of the work that is referred to in the bond application. Very frequently I am unable to get any clear idea of what the advertisers are asking bids on, and of course the prospective bidder or contractor is also at a loss to know what kind of a job is being advertised.

"Traveling expenses are heavy at the present time, and contractors pay out considerable sums during the course of a year in investigating prospective contracts. This of course is a large charge that the owners eventually pay, and anything that will reduce the general overhead of contract work will eventually be to the advantage of the owner.

"One way to reduce this overhead is to word the advertisement so that the contractor sitting in his office will know whether or not he should investigate and prepare a bid on the proposed work."

A Bonding Company's Suggestion to Official Proposal Advertisers

"A large part of our contract bond business is submitted to us by wire, and I am a constant reader of the Official Proposals in order to find out the size and nature of the work that is referred to in the bond application. Very frequently I am unable to get any clear idea of what the advertisers are asking bids on, and of course the prospective bidder or contractor is also at a loss to know what kind of a job is being advertised.

"Traveling expenses are heavy at the present time, and contractors pay out considerable sums during the course of a year in investigating prospective contracts. This of course is a large charge that the owners eventually pay, and anything that will reduce the general overhead of contract work will eventually be to the advantage of the owner.

"One way to reduce this overhead is to word the advertisement so that the contractor sitting in his office will know whether or not he should investigate and prepare a bid on the proposed work."

Our 100 Correspondents

are picked men. Applications are continually being received from all parts of the United States and Canada, and from these the best are accepted. Some of our Construction News correspondents have been with us for years, and one or two new ones are "put on" every week. One of our biggest jobs is the upkeep of our Correspondent Staff.

It ought to be thoroughly understood by engineers, contractors, material men, and by all others who make constant use of these pages, that every item we publish is verified

This essential fact cannot be too positively stated, because Engineering News-Record is spending much money and more effort to keep these pages as clear as possible of error and to render its readers a reliable business-getting service

Our correspondents are not lightly selected. Before appointing a new man we send him a set of printed instructions and sample blanks and advise him to digest this literature thoroughly before writing us again. Those who stand this test, who after studying the job before them still believe they are sufficiently qualified to serve us, are promptly put to work.

Every report sent in by a correspondent gives the source of his information, and as much detail as may be available. If in the opinion of our office force there is the slightest question as to authenticity, or if essential details are omitted, the report is returned with a notation on the back of it. We are in continual communication with our correspondents, and they are imbued with the spirit of our two watchwords—accuracy and timeliness.

When an important item of business information is both accurate and timely it has another quality which embraces the two just named, and it is this third and comprehensive quality which we aim to achieve in these pages—

Why?

WHY do Government regulations specify that contracts for construction, equipment and supplies over a certain minimum amount must be advertised?

WHY do the laws of most States and Municipalities specify the same thing?

WHY do so many private corporations advertise their big contracts?

WHY do Consulting Engineers, Architects, and others recommend and endorse the advertising of Contracts To Be Let?

And—

WHY are 90% of the advertisements on which real national competition is desired published in ENGINEERING NEWS-RECORD?

In the answers to the foregoing questions you will find unquestionable proof that

1—Advertised Contracts are the accepted form of public letting to insure the awarding of contracts free of prejudice.

2—Advertised Contracts guarantee the greatest possible saving through maximum competition and that—

3—ENGINEERING NEWS-RECORD is universally recognized as the one dominant medium of national circulation for advertising Contracts To Be Let.

Are your contracts advertised?
Are they advertised in Engineering News-Record?
If not—WHY?

Why You Should Advertise for Bids NATIONALLY

Nation-wide publicity reaches the greatest number of responsible bidders best fitted to do work in the most up-to-the-minute manner at lowest cost.

It makes local bidders figure closer and adopt the most efficient methods of doing work.

It is evidence of good business administration—an honest effort to furnish efficient service.

Buyers of bonds are naturally influenced by the efforts made to let contracts to reliable bidders at favorable prices.

Why You Should Advertise in ENGINEERING NEWS-RECORD—

Engineering News-Record is a consolidation of the three leading publications in the engineering and construction field—Engineering News, Engineering Record and The Contractor. It has a circulation of over 30,000 copies weekly—several times that of any other paper in the field—and includes among its readers almost every worthwhile contractor, engineer, manufacturer and dealer in the country interested in bidding on work outside his own vicinity.

Engineering News-Record is the one nationally recognized medium through which prospective bidders on work outside of their immediate localities keep regularly informed of the newest work on which bids are desired. Many rely entirely upon the announcements in this paper and, therefore, do not see those advertised elsewhere.

Over 3,000 Official Proposals Appear Annually—

Perhaps the best indication of what other cities and towns think of the results obtainable through the official proposals columns of Engineering News-Record is the fact that more than 3,000 of their announcements appear each year. Many of their letters telling of the savings realized as a result of their advertising in this great medium are further proof of the worthwhileness of national publicity through Engineering News-Record.

A Bonding Company's Suggestion to Official Proposal Advertisers

"A large part of our contract bond business is submitted to us by wire, and I am a constant reader of the Official Proposals in order to find out the size and nature of the work that is referred to in the bond application. Very frequently I am unable to get any clear idea of what the advertisers are asking bids on, and of course the prospective bidder or contractor is also at a loss to know what kind of a job is being advertised.

"Traveling expenses are heavy at the present time, and contractors pay out considerable sums during the course of a year in investigating prospective contracts. This of course is a large charge that the owners eventually pay, and anything that will reduce the general overhead of contract work will eventually be to the advantage of the owner.

"One way to reduce this overhead is to word the advertisement so that the contractor sitting in his office will know whether or not he should investigate and prepare a bid on the proposed work."

The First Issue of the New Year

IN its first issue of each new year Engineering News-Record has followed the policy of indicating the trend of progress in those fields of civil engineering and construction in which outstanding developments have occurred. It has also suggested, where possible, the course of future activities. The Jan. 4 issue is planned in accordance with this policy.

ONE of its features will be a group of articles on the Labor Situation, covering labor shortage, seasonal employment, apprenticeship, and immigration.

A wide range of interest will be covered by other articles. The Mississippi River Floods will receive extensive treatment and an article on Irrigation will discuss the Government's responsibility for developing the remaining arid lands in the West.

Traffic Control in cities will be among the chief topics of interest, and there will be a review of the year's developments in Concrete Design.

Hydro-Electric Practice on the Pacific coast will be reflected in a comprehensive review of the year's developments.

There will be a survey of progress during 1922 in Construction, supplemented by an article which will cover improvements made in Construction Equipment and Materials.

IT is impossible to give here an adequate summary of the issue. For the busy engineer, contractor, and manufacturer it will present concisely a survey of major developments in the fields of civil engineering and construction.

TAX DEPARTMENT
ALBANY

October 26, 1922

Monroe Calculating Machine Co.
Woolworth Building
New York City

Gentlemen:

With relation to the experience which this department has had with the Monroe Calculating Machines, please be advised that the department is perfectly satisfied with the operations of these machines.

The calculations are intricate and voluminous, and financially among the most important which the state has to make.

The seven years' investment, averaging approximately $5000, has saved to this state three quarters of a million dollars in the same period of time. For the class of work for which the machines are used in this department we believe them unequalled.

Respectfully yours,

M/B

John J. Merrill
Commissioner

How $5000.00 Saved Three-Quarters of a Million

IN the above letter, the Tax Commissioner of the State of New York tells how an investment of $5000.00 in Monroe Calculating Machines resulted in a saving of three-quarters of a million dollars.

And not alone New York State. Within the past month the Illinois State Highway Department made an additional installation of nine Monroes—itself a splendid tribute to Monroe service.

The Monroe has proved itself of great value to the engineering profession in every phase of its figure-work, whether computing level-readings and areas, figuring estimates, payrolls or costs, or working on the complicated calculations of laboratory tests and formulae.

Many have taken advantage of its superior features—its remarkable ease and simplicity of operation, its first-time accuracy.

Wherever there is figure-work to be done, the Monroe will save time, money and costly mistakes for you Its value may be determined right in your own office without the slightest obligation.

Made in three sizes: 20, 16 and 12-place capacities.

Lower Bids With More Profit

WRITING Carney in your plans is writing profit on your books. Thousands of contractors know that Carney enables them to make lower bids and to give their clients a better job with more profit to themselves.

To those who have never used Carney, this may seem impossible. The following economies show why you can make lower bids.

The first cost of Carney is less. You have no lime to buy, for Carney does not require lime in mixing. There is no slacking of lime. The simple formula, "One part Carney — three parts sand — no lime," prevents mistakes and makes mixing easy.

Mixing Carney requires less labor and is quicker. There is no waste for left-over mortar can be used the next day by re-tempering with water. Carney lays approximately 1000 bricks to the barrel. Men work faster on the wall because Carney is more plastic and smoother working.

On top of these advantages Carney builds a stronger wall. The mortar becomes harder than the brick or tile it joins. Thus it is that Carney enables you to submit lower bids, get more contracts, and build a better wall—all with more profit.

It Will Pay You to Investigate

It will pay you to investigate a cement with the advantages given above. Let us send you the Carney Catalog for your files.

Why Cement Sacks Are Filled Upside Down

The curious method of filling portland cement sacks—filling them upside down after they have been tied—is a striking example of progress made in industrial processes.

Until twenty years ago, cement sacks were filled practically as all other sacks always had been. You had a huge bin of this finer-than-flour material. A workman at the door of the bin hung a sack up, with its mouth open, on a wooden frame and filled it with an ordinary shovel. Then he set it on a scale, and with a hand scoop adjusted the weight of the contents to the exact 94 pounds required, after which he tied the sack by hand and tossed it on a truck to be hauled into a freight car.

That was the way as little as twenty years ago, and no one had thought much of doing it differently.

But now what happens?

The cement is taken from the bin by an automatic conveyor—a moving belt or bucket chain—and elevated and dumped into the hopper of a filling machine. This is a small bin with an elaborate mechanism including a fan inside; and at the bottom of it is a 1-inch spout through which the cement flows like water. The filler sits at the spout. Sacks have been brought to him already tied at the top but with an opening guarded by a valve at the bottom. The filler slips the opening over the spout and turns on the cement. When the sack is filled to exactly 94 pounds it tips a scale, automatically turns off the cement, and with a little push from the filler falls on another moving belt that carries it out and drops it at the freight car door.

By the old method, a team of four men could fill and load 1,600 sacks a day. By the new method, a similar team can fill and load 8,000.

The filling machine is costly, and royalties must be paid on the valve sack process, but the new arrangement has meant a considerable labor saving. It has meant especially that the manufacturers have been able to get their product out more promptly to users during the rush period of summer and fall. For in that period labor of the kind required for sacking and loading is generally hard to get.

Even with the improvements, a medium sized plant—one producing a million barrels of cement a year and employing not more than 300 people altogether—must normally employ 60 people in its sacking and loading department.

13,000 Holes Drilled—4 per Minute!

HERE'S a Little Giant Air Drill with a record of 13,000 holes 7/16", 11/32" and 13/32" in diameter, drilled through ¼-inch close-grained, tough, heat-treated metal, averaging 4 holes per minute! This average includes two changes of drill sizes.

Ask Harry Merritt, the skilled operator at this drill, why he uses a Little Giant. "Its stay-ability, fast-cutting speed and giant drilling power help make a bigger bonus" will be his reply.

Although this Little Giant has been in continuous service at the plant of the General Motors Company, Pontiac, Michigan, for over a year, no repairs have been necessary.

Such speed and endurance records demonstrate the fact that Little Giants can and will lower drilling costs in your plant. Secure a trial Little Giant from the nearest Branch. Meantime, ask for Bulletin 598.

Heard about the new Little Giant feature—the patented Vent Tube? Saves $90.70 annually. Makes lubrication necessary only once weekly. Know all about it. Address nearest Branch for details.

"Our 13-ton 'A' ERIE

did the excavating, laid the pipe, and backfilled

on this storm sewer contract,"—

Sweeney Bros., Scranton, Pa.

"While we dug ahead a short distance with the ERIE, the men prepared the trench for the pipe right behind the shovel. We would then swing the ERIE around to lay the pipe, which the men promptly jointed. Then the ERIE continued digging, dumping the excavated material upon the pipe laid. We got very satisfactory results with but very few men for the entire operation."— Sweeney Bros., Contractors, Scranton, Pa. (Owners of 5 ERIES).

As another contractor expresses it: "We have found that the ERIE is the best all-around trenching machine on the market."— Austin B. Cable, Pres., The Cable Co., Canton, O. (Owners of 5 ERIES).

If you have trench work, cellar work, road grading— it will pay you to investigate the "A" ERIE. It is economical in first cost and operating cost; for work in its class, it has many advantages over a heavier machine. Write us for full information.

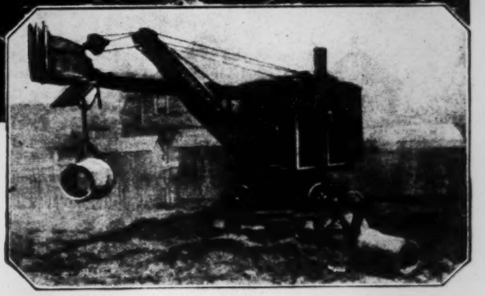
ERIE Revolving Shovels



In order to handle all three operations as the machine goes along—digging the trench, laying the pipe and backfilling— you have to move the shovel over the excavated trench. When you strike soft and crumbly material like that shown in these two photos, you are mighty lucky if you have an "A" ERIE, weighing only 13 tons. The light weight prevents cave-ins and saves a lot of trouble. And the "A" has plenty of power for digging trench through stiff clay; easily handles large boulders.

For maximum output, or unusually hard digging, use the "B"

In material like hard shale, stiff clay or hardpan, the 20-ton "B" ERIE gives excellent output. Used for quarry work, cellars, coal stripping, road grading, as well as trench work.

For very deep trench or wide ditch digging—either the 13-ton "A" ERIE or the 20-ton "B" ERIE can be easily and quickly changed over to a locomotive crane to handle a clamshell bucket. Also gives excellent results handling a dragline bucket for digging drainage ditches, dredging, etc.

Gentlemen;-

The completion of our new refinery at Baltimore establishes the latest link in our chain of plant service which extends from our refinery in New Orleans to Baltimore, through Philadelphia and New York to Boston. The labor of construction is over and the wheels of production are turning.

Throughout the construction period of two years, during which time your firm had charge of the engineering design of the Boiler House and coal handling facilities and the construction of the entire plant, you have rendered a service to this Company marked by skill, efficiency and co-operation of a pronounced character, and we take this opportunity of congratulating you upon your part in this great enterprise and know that you share our pride in its completion.

Yours very truly,

Every Marion Revolving Shovel can be changed into orange peel or clamshell crane, or dragline excavator. Attachments are interchangeable and can be easily added in the field.

Are You Satisfied—

With Your Present Operating Costs?

Perhaps you are—but yet your shovel operations maybe costing far more than they should. To make sure, check your records with the cost data we have compiled on our new electric and gasoline-electric shovels.

One owner writes that he saved from $12.00 to $15.00 a day on a grading job—another tells us his total daily cost for both labor and fuel was $14.50 (just about the cost of the operator and fireman on a steam machine) —still another says the additional operating time each day increased his output fifteen percent, there being no time lost coaling up or waiting on steam.

Such savings as these are easily possible with Marion Electrics and Gasoline-Electrics. When you buy one of these shovels you get a decidedly practical and efficient machine—one that will make you more money than any other shovel of similar size and type now on the market.

Taking on Fuel

On a Marion Gasoline-Electric this requires only a few minutes time. Supply tank is located under the engine and holds sufficient gasoline for a full day's run. Compare this with the "coaling up" of a steam machine, especially in wet and muddy places or in isolated localities far from the source of fuel supply.

Consider the Many Advantages of This New Type

Less fire risk.
No fireman required.
No boiler feed water to supply.
Fast and flexible as a steam shovel.
Will do anything a steam shovel can do.
Can be operated at less cost.
Engine cannot be stalled.
No complicated and sensitive frictions to adjust.
Can be handled by any operator familiar with a steam shovel.

Marion Electric and Gasoline-Electric Shovels are fully described in Bulletin A-301

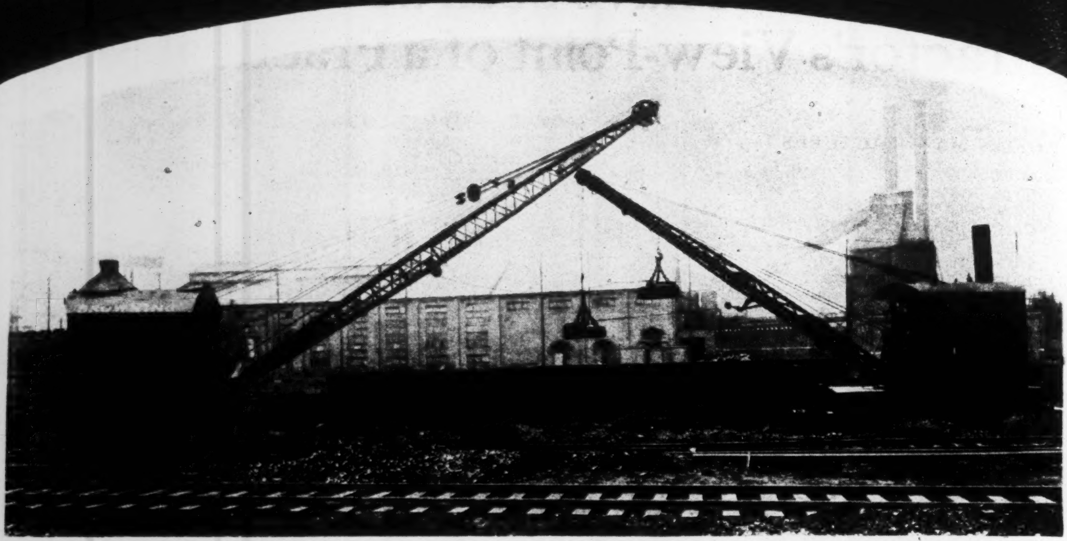
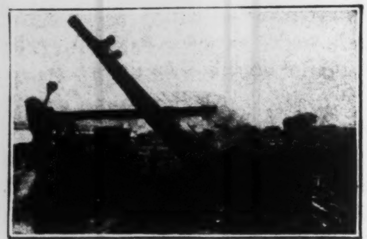
"MOVES THE EARTH—MIXES THE CONCRETE"



Two Brownings now in use at Struthers, Ohio. The one on the right was purchased in 1906, the one on the left in 1922.

Browning Cranes are particularly adapted and famous for their all-around usefulness on construction work.



Browning equipped with steam shovel attachment. Note the clear height from the ground level to the bottom of the dipper door.

16 Years Old and still on the job

N MARCH 1906, over 16 years ago, The Struthers Furnace Company, Struthers, Ohio, purchased their first Browning.

Worked to maximum capacity in war time and periods of prosperity, but nevertheless always finding plenty to do in periods of depression, because of its versatility, this Browning is still on the job and serving faithfully. A performance like this doesn't mean an extra good Browning—it's simply a good example of Browning service.

Increased demands in 1922 made a new crane purchase necessary. A "brother" Browning was chosen because of the good record of the first. That's the usual custom with Browning owners.

Buying a Bucket

You don't buy a bucket for what it will do the first day—you buy a bucket for what it will do the first year.

A good bucket has more to it than proper shape and closing power—it must have "guts," an inelegant term, but the one that most strongly pictures the reason why Haiss Buckets have the call.

You may never have compared the weight of the plate in bucket bowls. You may never have compared the value of the "clear around" Haiss cutting shoe with other construction, or the cast-steel blade arms and bowl braces—the man who uses Haiss Buckets may not have studied out the "why" of it, but he knows that they do deliver the goods; they stay on the job.

SCARIFYING

with an Austin Steamer

We could fill a dozen pages with a detailed description of the construction and operating features of the Austin Steam Roller, and not impress you half so much as you would be impressed by a brief demonstration of this machine on difficult work such as scarifying.

When we speak of an increase of 20% in boiler heating surface, you are interested, especially if you know through sad experience how badly something of the sort is needed; but when you actually see a machine on the job—see how it buckles down to the hardest tasks, not for a few moments only, but hour after hour and day after day—then you are convinced that we hit the mark when we aimed to build

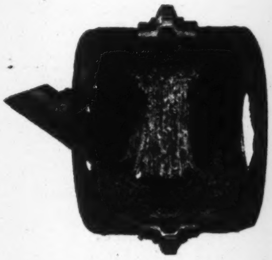
SMITH MIXERS



Good Concrete and Speed

Users of Smith Mixers make speed because the aggregate when dumped into the drum is properly taken care of by the revolving buckets, and the "end-to-center" mixing action keeps the mix where it should be.

Also, many contractors have standardized on Smith Mixers, their working crews becoming more expert and efficient, and requiring less supervision,—both of which mean better coordination and steadier concrete production. Ample reserve is provided in the Smith power plant.

Confidence

The confidence the public has in the strength of concrete structures—foundations, bridges, dams, etc.,—is really a blind confidence.

But the confidence the construction man has is to a great extent a result of his knowledge of the permanent concrete mixed in his Smith Mixers.

Construction men are aware of the responsibilities they are shouldering,—hence the desire to be sure of the best concrete mixing on their contracts.

Smith Mixers are made for the smallest and largest jobs. In all, the design insures thorough mixing.

Telsmith Solves a Gravel-Washing Problem

A little story illustrating the value of reliable engineering counsel in designing gravel handling plants.

In 1920, the City of Red Wing, Minnesota, owned a gravel pit, equipped with quite a large storage bin, a good drag-line outfit, a worn-out jaw crusher and a totally inadequate dry-screening plant. Mr. William Geisheker, city engineer, consulted the Telsmith agent in St. Paul. Mr. Geisheker furnished a drawing of this plant as it stood; and Telsmith engineers prepared plans and specifications for the re-construction of the plant. To secure an output of 20 cu. yds. of washed gravel per hour, the following new equipment was recommended:

Telsmith Primary Breaker, No. 3 size, manganese equipped;
Telsmith Plate Feeder, 16 in. x 5 ft.;
Telsmith Heavy Duty Washing Screen, 32 in. dia. by 12 ft. long;
Telsmith Sand Tank, No. 5 size.

It's a mean job to revamp an old plant, rectifying the errors in an earlier design—to sort out the good material from that which is worthless and fit in new machinery into an old structure. Telsmith did the job well. The Red Wing plant has now been operating for two years. It has produced excellent results under difficult conditions.

We don't yearn for "patch jobs," but we cite this one just to illustrate what Telsmith can do when necessary. Good machinery plus a thorough knowledge of gravel plant practise—that's a hard combination to beat. We are here to serve you—to furnish you modern machinery and reliable engineering counsel. Glad to send you our Catalog No. G-P-1 (Gravel Pit equipment) and Bulletin No. 155 (Telsmith Crushers). No obligation.

Study These Points of Rail Design

DOMINANT strength—sturdiness adequate to the most punishing work—came to the road rail field with Metaform. The tube-like, continuous web construction of Metaform Road Rails offers not merely increased strength, but old-type strength literally multiplied.

Metaform superiority rests not alone on the ability of these rails to come through job after job with absolutely no sign of deterioration—but on their handiness, the speed with which they can be laid, aligned and stripped.

Metaform design eliminates pedestals and other jointing devices. But the rail-ends automatically lock into a husky joint that helps make a set-up solid as a railroad track. Rails may be removed instantly, at any point in the set-up, to form side-roads.

Study the points of construction shown below. Note the continuous web—lapped, riveted and welded. The tremendously stout stake box, with non-losable stake locking wedge. Write for complete literature.

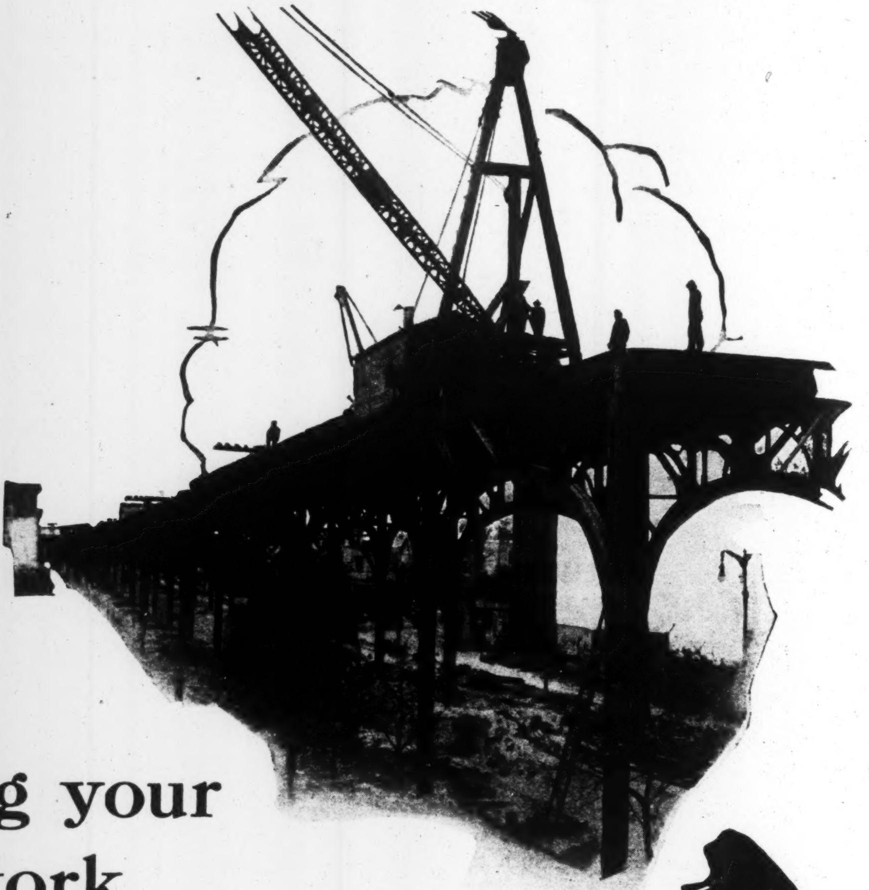
Dutch Boy Red-Lead



Preserving your steelwork

Strong and durable as iron and steel are, rust can eat into a big bridge or any such structure and eventually destroy it. But there is a way to prevent rust from eating your steelwork.

Dutch Boy Red-Lead paint prevents metal from rusting. It sticks tight to the surface and keeps out moisture and air. Weather cannot pry it loose. Hard enough to stand all kinds of weather, it also is elastic enough to expand and contract without cracking.

Contact surfaces, joints, rivets, etc., that are concealed after erection need particular attention. Here painting with Dutch Boy Red-Lead in the shop or before erection gives the necessary protection.

Dutch Boy Red-Lead comes both in paste and in liquid form. For priming coats it should be used straight. The liquid is supplied untinted and also tinted black, light and dark green, and light and dark brown. With the paste any dark color desired can be obtained.

KEYSTONE COPPER STEEL

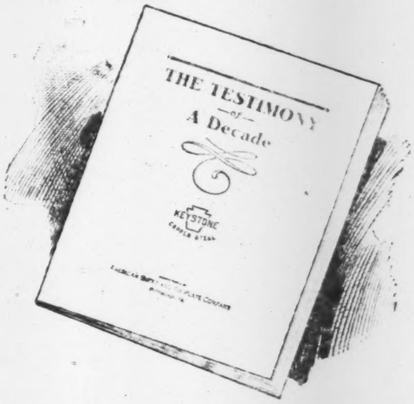
THE ACHIEVEMENT of alloying steel with copper to increase its resistance to rust, is a most important one. Copper puts into Sheet Steel a new measure of permanence that cannot be obtained without its help. The proof is positive and impartial—the result of time and weather exposure.

Your District Sales Office will be pleased to supply this booklet.



Send for new set of Weight Cards and Apollo Calendar.

We have assembled in a brief booklet a few of the outstanding facts showing the superiority of Copper Steel, together with opinions of eminent authorities, official photograph of weather tests, and graphic chart showing corrosion losses of steel and iron sheets. This booklet is of particular interest to engineers, contractors, and users of sheet metal—and will be gladly sent upon request.

This Company is pleased to assist you in the solution of your sheet metal problems. Our large group of modern plants provide extensive facilities, and with these we combine an able and skilled personnel of long experience, whose earnest desire is to serve you well—and supply products that render the full measure of satisfaction.

The Winter Shovel

The Thew gasoline is the winter shovel.

It is just the shovel for those odd jobs that you can pick up this time of year to help keep down your overhead.

It has the same range and flexibility as the Thew steam shovel. Except for gearing to a single source of power it is identical in design and construction.

Of course the continuous tread truck has real power steer and two speeds. The steering is done from the cab.

With the gasoline you will save on fuel and maintenance cost. You won't have to have a night watchman and a fireman. The shovel is always ready for work and easy to run. With the Thew enclosed house, running even in zero weather is not uncomfortable.

The Ambler Davis Company of Philadelphia own this winter shovel. Get their opinion of it.

Or write for your copy of Bulletin 601.

'UNIVERSAL'
the
CAST IRON PIPE
that Makes its Own Joints

Resisting Severe Exposure to the Elements

THIRTY miles of Universal Cast Iron Pipe, sizes 2 in. to 12 in., laid by the Key West Gas Company nine years ago is giving perfect satisfaction.

The ability of 'Universal' to give dependable service under unusual conditions is readily appreciated. Consider the 'Universal' line shown above, recently photographed at Key West where the bank washed away in 1919. Despite repeated attacks of heavy seas, this 4-in. Universal Pipe line continues to give uninterrupted service.

Universal Pipe is the ideal pipe for water supply, high pressure fire systems, gas lines and other service where freedom from leakage is paramount.

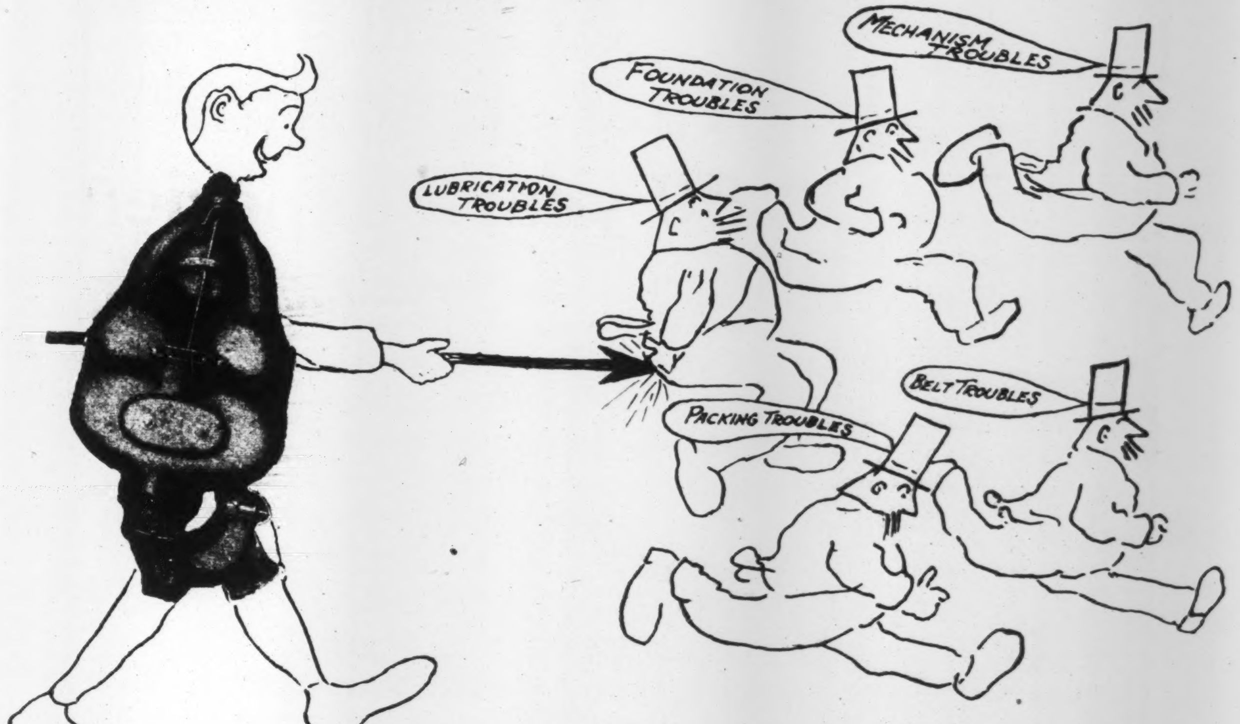
The Pulsometer Drives Away Your Pumping Troubles



How can there be Pumping Troubles with a Pulsometer? It has no cams, rods, pistons, packing and other trouble-making inside mechanism to get out of order. It has no sliding parts. It requires no lubrication. It requires no belting. It requires no adjusting, no attention. You do not have to build a foundation. Just hang the Pulsometer on a hook, stick the suction into the water, turn on the steam (exhaust steam will do)—and it will begin pumping and keep it up until it sucks dry.

Note. It's easy to get a Pulsometer. You can rent, lease or buy one. Just get in touch with us.

CHAPMAN

That stands for 50 years' experience

—Look for it!

Sluice Gates With a Pedigree

Any good foundry can produce a sluice gate. Perhaps it will be a good sluice gate. But is it worth while to take chances? You must ask yourself whether or not the sluice gates you purchase will simply save you money on first cost—or over a long period of years of operation. You must ask yourself whether they have been well designed, whether the workmanship and metals are up to a certain standard of excellence. And in Chapman Sluice Gates all these questions are answered affirmatively—because back of every Chapman Sluice Gate lie 50 years' of experience and reputation. Send for the Chapman Catalog 38—a fine "text book" of fine products.

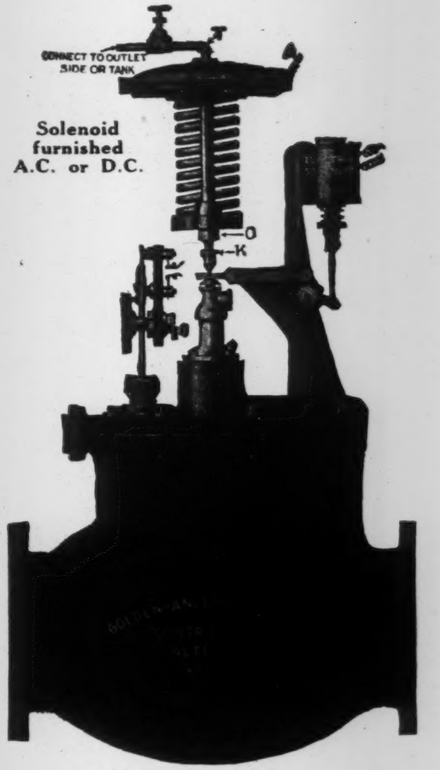
VALVES

The test of actual years of Service has demonstrated
Golden-Anderson
Patented Automatic Cushioned "Stop-Starter Electric" Controlling Altitude Valves

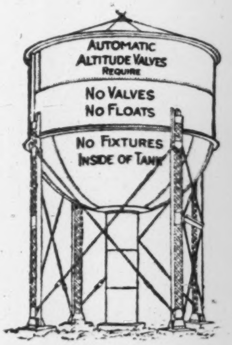


Solenoid furnished A.C. or D.C.

Sizes to 30 in.

You can't afford to experiment with systems of electrical control of water-level (pumps) in your standpipes, tanks, reservoirs. The failure of a "system" may mean heavy loss in water, revenue, troubles, complaints, etc. Select the best you can possibly afford, after thoro investigation —remembering always that the valves shown here have been proven efficient for this work by years of real service.

These valves will "cut in" or "cut out" one or more driven pumps. Actuated by the fall or rise of water level in standpipes, tanks or reservoirs. Control pumps automatically, from distant points if desired. By maintaining a constant water level, they stop water waste due to overflow, and also all unnecessary pumping. For high or low pressure. Air and water cushioned. No floats or fixtures. No water hammer or shock. No metal to metal seats. Solenoid furnished for alternating or direct current. Especially adapted for railroads, water works and industrial plants.



"No Floats or Fixtures"
"No Water Hammer or Shock"

Will Also Operate Warning Bells and Signal Lights

"Hosts of References"—Every Valve with an Absolute Guarantee

Golden-Anderson Pat.
Automatic Float Valves

2. Cushioned by both water and air. No metal to metal seating, pounding, sticking or chattering.

Can be regulated to operate quickly or slowly on High or Low pressures. Float swivels to any angle desired.

Construction. Heavy Iron Body . Bronze mounted. Virtually indestructible, due to service.

Oxwelding a 9-inch crank shaft broken in three places

An Ounce of Cure Cheats the Scrap Heap

What Oxweld has done for others—Oxweld can do for you.

OXWELD Can Do IT!

An illustrated book "Oxweld Can Do It" tells what oxwelding is doing—write for it

It would have cost a lot of money, to say nothing of lost weeks, to replace this badly cracked nine inch crank shaft.

The oxwelder's torch put it back to work — as good as new — in a few days and at a trifling cost.

That is the every-day story of oxwelding—saving time and money wherever machines of metal are subject to wear and tear.

And in production, too, the oxwelding and cutting blowpipes are turning out stronger, neater products—quicker and at a great saving.

In more than fifty cities are stationed Oxweld Service Engineers—why not ask to have one of these experts demonstrate how oxwelding and cutting may be used in your plant to your profit. There is no charge for such service.

Second-hand pipe has numerous uses in construction. Often it is bought in preference to new, because it is not permanently installed but is removed after the job is completed.

With new construction on the increase, there is an ever growing demand for pipe.

We Make Millionaires
That's Why Our Customers Are Millionaires

Did you ever stop long enough over our advertisements during the past months to notice who our customers are?

Do you know that hundreds not to say thousands of the executives of the Biggest Corporations turn to the Ridgway ad every issue just to "catch the Ridgway pep and inspiration"?

One of the Carnegie folks once said to "Old Hook 'er" "The old man always turns to the Ridgway stuff the first thing when the paper comes in and I often hear him chuckle over the way you put things."

The Editor of one of the Big Trade Papers said:—"Ridgway, you have a lot more readers than I or any one else in the paper has."

The reason they read Ridgway is because WE POINT THE WAY TO SUCCESS.

The same Poor Quality Brain that will turn down the Ridgway Elevator will run the concern he is supposed to guide into the ditch.

Real Ability with steam available will never put in the always-out-of-order, always-need-repairs, the going-into-the-overhead, the "consarn-it-there-she-goes-again," the $120-a-year inspection "to keep her going," winding elevator when he can get PERFECTION IN ELEVATORS IN A RIDGWAY.

Baldwin locomotives employed in a notable Brazilian engineering project

AMERICAN visitors to the Brazilian Government's International Exhibition at Rio de Janeiro, will be interested in witnessing the work of the Baldwin locomotives used in the razing of the Morro do Castello ridge, which will add about 150 acres of ground to the city. This ridge rises to a height of 200 feet and the cost of the project, which will require about two years to complete, is estimated at $6,000,000. When the contract for this great improvement was awarded to Leonard Kennedy & Co., Inc., of New York, an order for the building of four locomotives, as illustrated, to be completed in 30 days, was given to us. These locomotives are now in service.

Baldwin Contractors' locomotives are always to be depended upon in any kind of work.

Paving Asphalt

The Ideal Country Road

VERY few pavements have the hard wearing traffic that falls to the lot of the average country road. Automobiles and trucks, tractors and wagons, loaded and unloaded all conspire to effect its destruction.

To stand up under these trying conditions the road must be constructed to meet them. A substantial subgrade—a firm base and a shock-absorbing wearing course are the three factors essential to any road where traffic impact is heavy.

Stanolind Paving Asphalt

provides an ideal material for the construction of such roads. It is laid at a low initial first cost and requires a minimum of maintenance. This latter feature is important because money allowed by the tax payers usually does not provide for a large upkeep expense.

Hundreds of miles of country roads constructed by the Stanolind method years ago, are still in the best of condition although very little has been spent on them for repairs. We will gladly cite instances and supply details on request.

RHODE ISLAND

TEXACO Asphalt Macadam pavement on the Post Road, between Providence and New London, R. I. Laid 1915

What is the State Highway pavement in Rhode Island?

At the beginning of the present year, 97% of the paving higher than waterbound macadam was of the bituminous types.

94% of the total mileage of Federal Aid Projects completed in this State up to 1922 also have been constructed with bituminous paving.

AND

TEXACO Asphalt pavement on Putnam Pike, Rhode Island, showing section near Centerdale

How logical was the decision of Rhode Island in selecting this paving is evidenced by the fact that miles of bituminous construction laid twelve and fifteen years ago are affording today the same fine service that characterized their first years under traffic.

TEXACO Asphalt pavements have carried Rhode Island State highway traffic since 1909 so effectively that annual maintenance expenditures have been extremely low in most instances, and in some years have been conspicuous by their absence.

A Structural Necessity

MESH reinforcement for concrete is an essential on every big engineering job. Clinton Electrically Welded Wire Fabric has earned the right to be classified as the ideal mesh reinforcement through twenty years of continuous service in which it has met every requirement and actually exceeded expectations.

Cross-members of this rectangular mesh are electrically welded at points of intersection, practically converting the whole into a single, homogeneous unit of steel strength. It distributes concentrated loads automatically.

DEPRECIATION OF PUBLIC UTILITY PROPERTIES

By Henry Earle Riggs, C. E., Professor of Civil Engineering, University of Michigan.

211 pages, 5½ x 8, $2.00, postpaid

THIS book sets forth the new problems in valuation and depreciation of public utility properties brought about by the price fluctuations of 1914 to 1921.

The book gives special attention to the effect of the fluctuating price level upon the items of "depreciation," "fair value," "obsolescence," etc.

Professor Riggs traces briefly the history of the regulation of utilities, gives his own interpretation of the distinction which must be made between the replacements necessary because of wear and tear, and actual loss of value, and points out certain important conclusions of the courts with which every one engaged in valuation work should be familiar.

The digest of cases from the higher courts is divided into three periods; those in the earlier stages of regulation, those in the period following the adoption of uniform accounting, and those since the beginning of the war in 1914.

The author's views and conclusions are the development of twenty years of practice in valuation work.

CONTENTS

I.—The Problems of Regulation. II.—Investment in Public Utility Properties. III.—The Interest of the Rate Payer in the Property. IV.—Operating Expenses. V.—War Period Price Fluctuations. VI.—Fair Value and the Rate of Return. VII.—Fluctuating Prices and Accounting Allowances for Replacement. VIII.—Supreme Court Decisions Bearing on Depreciation. IX.—Divergent Views as to the Propriety of Accounting Reserves. X.—The Uncertain Character of Depreciation Estimates. XI.—Depreciation—Loss of Value Which Should Be Deducted. XII.—Obsolescence. XIII.—Conclusion. APPENDIX. Depreciation in the Decisions of the Supreme Court and of the United States Courts.

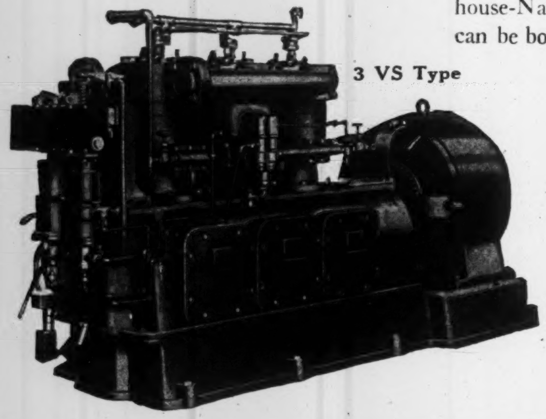
WESTINGHOUSE-NATIONAL
AIR COMPRESSORS

Bearings Can't Run Dry

ALL Westinghouse-National compressors equipped with the distinctive "HP" control are "fool-proof" in the matter of lubrication. Bearings can't run dry. When the oil in the crank case drops below a certain level the automatic control prevents further operation of the compressor until the oil supply is replenished.

This is only one of many features which combine to make Westinghouse-National compressors the most economical and serviceable that can be bought.



3 VS Type

Westinghouse-National Air Compressors are furnished in all sizes from 11 to 550 cu. ft. piston displacement; stationary and portable types; A.C. or D.C. motor. Especially adapted for factories, foundries, garages, office buildings, railway shops and yards, printing plants, etc. Literature on request.

"WAY DOWN UPON THE SUWANEE RIVER!"—

You know the old tune—

here are some new words!

Here you see a McKiernan-Terry No. 7 driving 25-ft. Concrete Piles for the ED SCOTT Memorial Bridge over the old "Suwanee Ribber," White Springs, Fla.

Listen to the story:

A jet was used before driving and carried down to about 20 feet. The piles were driven to an average depth of about 23 feet, and to a required safe load of 30 tons. In fact practically three-fourths of the 98-25 foot piles in this bridge were driven to ultimate refusal. A cushion built up of three 2-inch planks was used.

These piles were 17 in. square at butt, tapering to 10 in. square at the point. Not one was shattered in the driving!

Well, sah, "all de world am sad and weary" messing around with second rate pile hammers, until a McKiernan-Terry gets on the job. Why? Send for Bulletin 28 and see details!

LOCK-BAR

Why Is LOCK-BAR Steel Pipe Given a Preference of 3 Inches Diameter Over Riveted Steel Pipe?

On account of its smooth interior. There are no rivets, except at the circumferential joints, and these are 30 feet apart. Contrast this with the multitude of rivets inside Riveted Steel Pipe. We might add that the co-efficient of friction in LOCK-BAR Steel Pipe is taken as the same for that of new cast-iron pipe—and—it never grows less. Still another consideration—LOCK-BAR Steel Pipe will carry approximately 30% greater working pressure than riveted steel pipe of similar plate thickness. Why? Look in our 200-page "Handbook of Pipe" for the answer. Sent on request plus your business card.

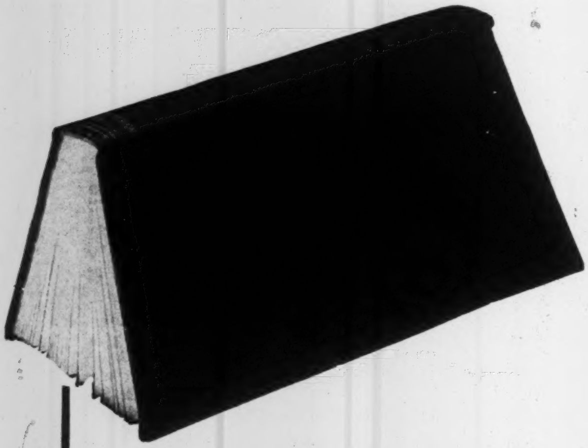

Graphical Analysis

A Textbook on Graphic Statics

By William S. Wolfe

Head of Structural Dept, Smith, Hinchman and Grylls; formerly instructor in Architectural Engineering, University of Illinois.

374 pages, 6 x 9, 731 illustrations, $4.00 net, postpaid.

This book is a development of notes and blueprints prepared by the author and used in his classes at the University of Illinois. The emphasis is placed on the analysis of stresses rather than on design or the computation of loads although one chapter is devoted to design and the determination of loads. A thorough mastery of the constructions and solutions presented in this book will give the student an excellent grasp of the subject.

The Engineer in Practice

Who wishes to review the subject of graphic statics will find this book a concise, usable presentation of fundamental principles.

Chapter Headings Are

Records Speak Volumes

The unusual qualities of Caldwell Cypress Tanks are proven by their enviable records in all sections of the country. Perhaps this is largely due to the fact that, of all woods, cypress is the one which lasts best outside its native climate.

Thirty years' experience in building tanks enables us to couple this remarkable tank wood with workmanship and design that ensure the maximum of tank satisfaction.

This is a new book—a companion volume to Gillette's HANDBOOK OF COST DATA and Gillette and Dana's MECHANICAL AND ELECTRICAL COST DATA. There is no duplication of material in the works.

The estimator's ready guide

This new Gillette book tells you how to make an esimate on a construction job, and then gives you accurate, detailed costs of actual jobs. These costs are so analyzed and itemized that you can easily make your own rate substitutions to allow for variations of time and locality.

Just Out

Handbook of Construction Cost

By H. P. Gillette
Editor of Engineering and Contracting
1734 pages, 4½ x 7, flexible, illustrated, $6.00 net, postpaid

There are twenty-three chapters of detailed costs of actual jobs covering every phase of construction work from hauling and excavating to painting bridges.

In addition to this priceless cost information there are two chapters that

(1) show the value of using accurate cost data;
(2) explain how to make a rapid and preliminary estimate of cost;
(3) give a typical complete cost estimate as an example;
(4) discuss factors a contractor should consider in making estimates;
(5) give Mr. Gillette's formula for commodity price levels and also his formula for wage levels.

THE UNIVERSAL DRAFTING MACHINE

Save Time and Effort

The grouping of tools around a common center in a turret lathe made a vast improvement in lathe practice. In like manner consolidating a number of drafting tools into one instrument—the Universal Drafting Machine—marked a big advance in the art of drafting.

The Universal Drafting Machine enables the draftsman to think without distraction—to draw, practically, as fast as he thinks—to make a drawing in half to three-quarters the time necessary with separate units of equipment.

The Universal Drafting Machine is accurate, durable, reasonable in price.

Elastic used in this riprap work by Miami Conservancy district near Dayton, Ohio.

Full Protection to all kinds of Concrete Work

ANY 100 yard stretch of concrete work will expand or contract approximately 2½ inches when the temperature changes 100 degrees.

This expansion or contraction is unavoidable and unfailing whether the change in temperature takes place in a few hours or a year's time.

Taking a factor of safety of four (4) enough expansion joints should be used to provide for expansion of 4x2½ inches or 10 inches, hence, there should be 20 half-inch expansion joints in every hundred yards.

Carey Elastite used on this basis has been employed in bridges, viaducts, dams, reservoirs, grand stands, and in every instance is successfully protecting the work against buckling and cracking.

It costs little to provide absolute safety from stresses due to inevitable changes in temperature.

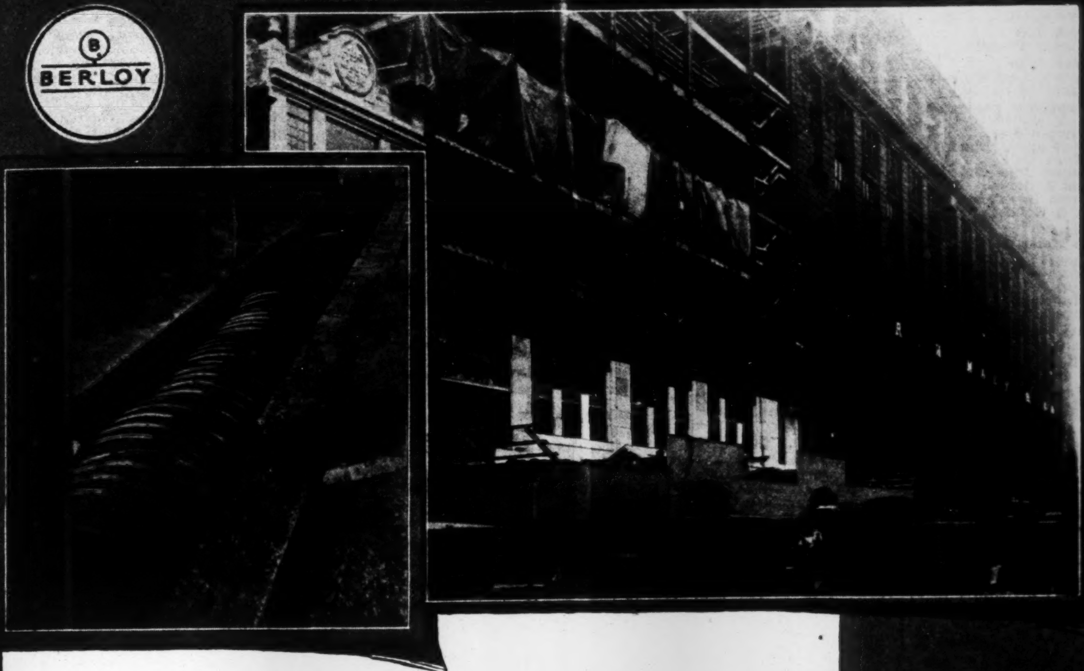
BERLOY



50,000 Square Feet
3/4-inch Ribplex Reinforcement

In the addition to the R. H. Macy Store in New York now being erected by Marc. Eidlitz & Son, Inc., Mooney Construction Co. handling the fireproofing, 24-gauge Berloy ¾-in. Ribplex, curved to specifications, is being placed between deep girders, as forms and reinforcement for the concrete.

This means a big saving in concrete and dead load, without lessening the efficiency of the slab. The Architect, Robert D. Kohn, is well pleased with the results.

The use of this curved Ribplex concrete floor construction merits careful consideration by every architect, engineer, and contractor.

Ribplex is also used extensively in solid slab construction for roofs and floors.

Write our nearest office for Bulletin K-24 and sample of ¾-in. Riplex.

Summary of results, Testing Laboratories, Department of Civil Engineering, Columbia University.

Industrial users of lumber and timbers are interested in the durability and strength of the products they use and the service these products give. In other words, they demand only the best. Long Leaf Southern Pine demonstrates convincingly its place among the competing woods in the above concise chart.

Add to this, the fact that the holdings of Exchange Sawmills Sales Company are all in that belt in Louisiana where Long Leaf Southern Pine grows to its best; that lumber and timbers for all industrial purposes are special products of our eight mills, made from especially selected trees and subjected to special care at our mills—and the user of ESSCO products knows he is getting the best that can be produced.

"Long Leaf Southern Pine showed a much greater ability to resist shock, which is a required characteristic for car construction material."—Report of Testing Laboratories.

THE IDEAL CRANE FOR CONTRACT AND INDUSTRIAL WORK

THE new Link-Belt Crawler Crane has no superior for road work, excavating and material handling. It is an all-purpose crane. Lays its own track in soft ground, and readily climbs over irregular surfaces like a war-time tank.

Operates with hook-block, grab bucket, drag-line bucket, skimmer bucket, power shovel attachment, electric lifting magnet, wood grapple, or pile driving attachment. Weighs 22 tons, lifts 10 tons at 12 ft. radius, or 3 tons at 30 ft. radius. One man operates it. Write for specifications, price and delivery date.

Also send for Catalog No. 370, showing the standard line of Link-Belt Cranes.

Hard-n-tyte
For CONCRETE
and MORTARS
REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

Put Hard-n-tyte on the grill—test it any way you see fit!

If you want absolute assurance of concrete floors that won't crumble or dust under the grind of trucking, let Hard-n-tyte prove its own case.

You may not be making radio equipment as the A. H. Grebe Company is doing. You may not require the freedom from dust that they demand. But you want long wearing concrete—the best you can get for your money.

If you think the building of such a floor is a gamble, let the Hard-n-tyte Engineer take the chances. His job is to give you flint-hard, long-wearing concrete that resists wear, weather and water. And the guarantee he gives you is the 5 Year Bond of the U. S. Fidelity & Guaranty Company.

The Hard-n-tyte Engineer in your territory is fully equipped to give you complete service, from preliminary estimates to supervision of the job. Get his figures on wear-proofing your next concrete floor.

General Chemical Company
40 Rector Street New York City

For over twenty years the General Chemical Company has been at the forefront of chemical research and manufacture in this country. The Hard-n-tyte Specification is the latest contribution of its splendid staff of chemists. It is the successful result of long search for a concrete floor hardener that really hardens the floor and materially increases its life. It enables engineers and architects to give their clients a quality of concrete work far in advance of anything that has been possible heretofore.
